

History of distribution and present space structure of Scots pine (Pinus sylvestris L.) range in the South Urals and Bashkir Cis-Urals is shortly characterized by literature sources. Main districts of pine forests which are differ by the history of formation, geographic position and forestry features are noted. Separate locations of species are distinguished in the limits of each district.