

The article provided with the results of observations of phenological phases over 5 years. The article reflects the budding phase, the beginning of regrowth, flowering vegetation and closure.