

Twelve taxons of Acer L. of different geographic origin are capable to either extent natural seed self-regeneration. Such species as A. platanoides L., A. ginnala Maxim., A. campestre L. and A. tataricum L. which produce mass and mean quantity of self-seeding and regrowth can form local introduction populations.