

The features of the steppe vegetation in the southern part of the right bank of Saratov region. Studied and described the types of steppes and variations found on the site, showing their floristic composition and cenoticheskoe variety.