

Features of germination of seeds Scutellaria baicalensis are studied at influence of the lowered temperatures (5–10 °C) and in room conditions (22–25 °C, natural illumination). Investigated germination of seeds depending on: month of harvesting; a period of storage of seeds; month of a bookmark of seeds on germination. Are established: term of the account of energy of germination, energy of germination and germinating ability seeds.