

During the cytoembriological investigation and the research of seed productivity of the species of Salicaceae family, growing in the different areas of Saratov region the ability of gametophyte apomixic was found out in 5 populations of 5 species of willows. This way of seeded reproduction of Salicaceae family was noticed for the first time.