

The morphogenesis peculiarities and the introduction possibility of nine double and nondouble hybrids F1 of Petunia grandiflora in vitro culture were studied. The culture media composition for induction of regeneration processes has been determined.